

Kristel Tans is the Head of Project Control, Supply Chain & Finance in Fusion for Energy (F4E). She leads a team of approximately 100 professionals, responsible for F4E's supply chain management, project control, budget, finance and accounting. She joined F4E in 2009 and prior to this position was Head of Unit for Commercial Management and Procurement. She holds an Engineering degree in Chemistry (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven) combined with an executive MBA (Antwerpen Management School). Her career in automotive and chemical private sectors, counting over 15 years, has provided her with a proven track record in financial planning and control, during which she excelled in collaborating with diverse teams to achieve high-quality results. During her 15 years in F4E, she has specialised in managing the end-to-end supply chain cycle with complex public procurement processes subject to stringent financial regulations. Forming and leading successful teams remains her passion as she firmly believes that diverse and inclusive environments foster creativity and excellence. The success of her teams is built on respect, transparency, professionalism, collaboration and staff empowerment.
